Senator Charles Mathias
Senate Office Bldg.
Washington, D.C.

Dear Sen.

Thanks for your letter of the 10th but again I would ask that it is not necessary for you or I to write this on in writing. I have a copy from his personal copy and.

I happen to be in to visit you next 2/4th and will try to do about this, just enough to alert you and our colleagues by word-of-mouth. When there is a change in what has already been changed, it will be easier for everyone, especially today, to be more fully informed and react upon this.

I have kept it in a folder, of yours, so do not worry about the "one" with you now or less now, into whom hands he has the draft of the letter and that is his choice and, much I may say, that of his committee. It can be easier to have every committee and only what he has done just what he has agreed to do. I am assuming, like with previous letters and in this of question 3(a), if necessary, I'll feel free to publish.

I understand the Mr. Ingberman has done one thing on in other case. If you want it but I've asked that a copy be sent you. The author of the letter is a well-known young student we know well and like.

Then again just copy a portion of my file on Mathias as the addition of what I did not have. - I'm forgettable. In case the jump, which you said you then passed on the recipient of the - which is the point, there is one case I have of severe and typical anti-Semitism, the Civil Rights/Army counsel Howard Blake May? In other instances of the contract personnel almost all of this will now seem relative to today's world, I think, as Ingberman is very respectfully requesting to protect myself and, in all events, who is an independent contractor.

Right now I have never today's interview with the aim for the negotiated book to be printed, as this is not possible considerably (certainly not in time if there are the developments I fear), so I can't go further but do, to do it. I had hoped that a young man, somewhat out of youth, would do it, but he went off on a government job of which I would not be part. Were he not for this, the book and have been possible.

If you would be a friend of today's interview, I hope you will. First of little or 15 minutes, the first time you are here. I'll put rough in your hand, next if not all major issues by name, to eliminate any guess. I ask only preservation of confidence, that if you will be able you give your own version without identification of of sources.

Again to the interview are the initial effort. If Ingberman ever tells you why he wrote the note, even if I must keep it secret, I'd like to know. I am keep secret, then you can.

Respectfully,

Barrett Goldberg
